Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 16 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Early showery rain clearing. Mainly dry, brightest in the east.

Today:
Generally breezy, with early cloud and showery rain clearing south, leaving a fine day in the east. Probably cloudier on the whole in the west, with one or two light showers possible, but even here many areas staying dry. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
Mainly fine at first, however occasional, mostly light rain should spread in from the west later in the night, with low cloud also becoming more widespread. Remaining damp by dawn. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tuesday:
A cloudier day on the whole, with a little light rain and drizzle possible at times. The east should be drier overall, with the best chance of limited brighter intervals. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
A quiet but rather cloudy spell of weather to end the working week, with a little rain probably most likely Thursday. Temperatures around average, but with mild nights given cloud-cover.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.